Mangosteen Pericarp Tonic

Garcinia Mangostana L.

Mangosteen is native to Indonesia, known for the sweetness of its fruit, and medicinal properties of the skin of the fruit, known as the pericarp. The hard rind of the fruit contains xanthenes, which are used extensively in pharmacology. Xanthenes are antioxidant, anti-thrombotic, antibacterial, anti-inflammatory, relax the blood vessels, and inhibit platelet aggregation (preventing blood vessel blockage).

Mangosteen peel contains several phytochemicals, including phenolic compounds, flavonoids, and anthocyanins, which elicit a variety of benefits, including antioxidant and cytoprotective effects. These potent antioxidants scavenge for damaging particles in the body called free radicals, promoting a healthy immune response. And they are beneficial in cancer prevention and healing, by promoting apoptosis or cancer cell "suicide" which checks the development of cancer.

Ingredients: Mangosteen pericarp / Garcinia mangostana L, Purified Water.

Star Anise Tonic

Illicium Verum

Star Anise / Illicium Verum is a medium-sized evergreen tree native to Southeast Asia. A spice is obtained from the star-shaped pericarp of the fruit, which are harvested just before ripening. Star anise contains plenty of important minerals and vitamins including Vitamins A and C as well as small amounts of B vitamins.

It also contains calcium and phosphorus but in terms of its medicinal value, perhaps its most important compound is shikimic acid - the main ingredient in Tamiflu flu medicine. Shikimic acid is highly beneficial in spike protein treatments. Shikimic acid contained in star anise is much stronger than that found in pine needles - pine needle tea can be toxic if wrong species are used. The extract of star anise is as successful as antibiotics, in counter to pathogenic (non-beneficial) bacteria, that are manifold drug-resistant. Also contains thymol, which stimulates the immune system.

Ingredients: Star Anise / Illicium Verum, Purified Water.

Sambiloto Leaf Tonic

Andrographis Paniculata

The most bitter of the bitter herbs, Sambiloto has been used for centuries to treat gastro-intestinal and upper respiratory infections, fever, herpes, sore throat, and a variety of other chronic and infectious diseases.

Sambiloto greatly enhances immune system function, by releasing interferon, and boosting lymphatic system function. Interferon is a protein (called a cytokine) made by cells in response to virus. A potent antiviral agent, it's also anti-proliferative (stops the reproduction of virus). During 2021, Sambiloto was declared by the Thai government as a cure for Covid, and related diseases, due to its ability to stop Covid-related spike protein production in the body.

Sambiloto is a potent stimulator of the immune system in two ways: (1) Antigen-specific response: antibodies are made to counteract invading microbes, and (2) Nonspecific immune response: macrophage cells scavenge and destroy invaders. Sambiloto activates both responses - making it effective against a variety of infectious and cancer-causing agents. Sambiloto is an excellent all around herb for treatment of Lyme disease.

Sambiloto is cytotoxic (cell-killing) against cancer, namely human epidermoid carcinoma (squamous cell carcinoma) of the skin lining of the nasopharynx and against lymphocytic leukemia cells.

Ingredients: Sambiloto Leaf / Andrographis paniculata, Purified Water.
